

Bio

John Cobourn

John Cobourn received a Bachelors degree in English from Brown University in 1968 and a Masters of Science degree in Hydrology from University of Nevada Reno in 1988. He is a Water Resource Specialist in the Incline Village office of University of Nevada Cooperative Extension. He writes extensively on the topics of best management practices for water quality, floodplain and river corridor management, and integrated watershed management. He founded the Lake Tahoe Environmental Education Coalition and was lead author on the Home Landscaping Guide for Lake Tahoe and Vicinity. He organizes BMP Trainings for Contractors at Lake Tahoe each spring. He was also a founding member of the Carson River Coalition and the Parasol Community Collaboration (now Tahoe CAN).